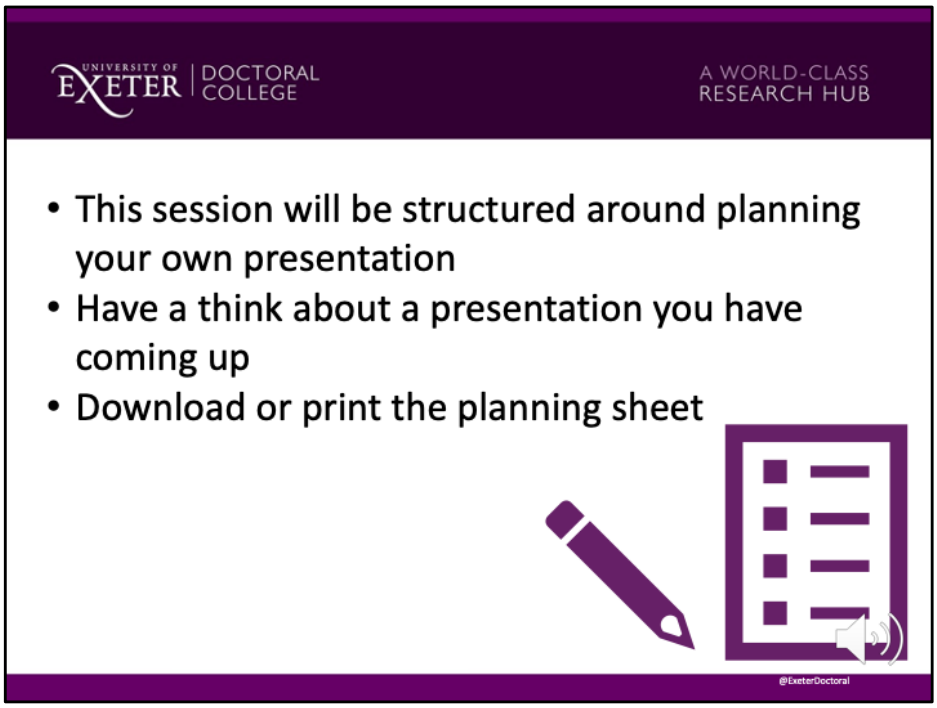
In this section, we will consider planning and developing your presentation.



This section will be structured around planning your own presentation – take a couple of minutes to think about a presentation you have coming up and its topic (if you don't have one planned, think of a presentation you could give). Download or print the planning worksheets, we will be using these throughout this section of the course.